

That hard cough of yours—what are you doing for it? Look out, or it will bind you with all the strength of a powerful chain.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

cures coughs and colds, even hard coughs and old colds.

Mrs. A. White, of Fitzroy, Victoria, says: "I had a very hard cough night and day. I tried many remedies, but without relief. I thought my lungs were nearly gone. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I began to improve at once, and only one and one-half bottles completely cured me."

There are many substitutes and imitations. Beware of them! Be sure you get Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Two sizes. Large and small bottles.

The only desirable means of reaching the Volcano. Connections at Mountain View with stages daily—morning trains going; afternoon trains returning. Fare from Hilo for the round trip $5. This route is through Olua plantation, the largest in Hawaii, virgin forests of koa and wild ferns, and through many coffee farms.

The natural wonders of Puna make that district the most interesting spot in Hawaii. One can spend a most delightful day exploring the underground caves, swimming in the famous Hot Springs and resting on the cool shores of Green Lake.

Excursion tickets between all points are sold on Saturdays and Sundays, good returning, until the following Monday noon.

Commutation tickets, good for twenty-five rides between any two points, and thousand mile tickets are sold at very low rates.

WIRELESS ACROSS ATLANTIC.

Marconi in Communication With a Station in England.

Sydney (N. S.), November 6.—Signor Marconi tonight refused either to affirm or deny the report that wireless messages have been received on board the cruiser Carlo Alberto since she entered Sydney harbor. From other sources, however, full confirmation of the report was obtained. The officers of the ship saw the first message, one of congratulations, was received as the cruiser entered Sydney harbor, and that on Monday Marquis Solar, who came in from Table Head received several messages from Poldhu, England, on the Carlo Alberto as she lay in the harbor. At present it is impossible to have access to the message book of the cruiser, but Marconi promises to give out a statement in a few days.

Vice-Admiral Sir Archibald Douglas, who arrived in Sydney last night, accompanied by Lieut. Arnold Foster, visited the Marconi towers this morning. Both Admiral Douglas and Lieutenant Foster are here to watch the experiments in wireless telegraphy at Table Head. Foster is an electrical expert and has had considerable experience with wireless telegraphy. The British navy, both on the Mediterranean sea and at the maneuvers off Spithead, has been testing Marconi's system, and the naval officials are anxious to keep abreast with the latest developments.

Annual Output of Fiction.

From 8,000 to 10,000 novels yearly appear the world over. They are but a share of the earth's great stream of print, but they are the largest share. Japan contributes a round half-thousand—462 in 1895. There are a couple of hundred in India, letters in India still turning to verse in preference to prose, as in primitive Vedic days, writes Talcott Williams in the Review of Reviews. The Arab world has its scattering scores; in Egypt, three to five yearly; in Syria a few dozen. Strange works they are. The fiction of the East harks back to the plain spoken men who sit in the curving ring of listeners in the market place, telling tales as old as Hamu Rabbi and as new as the Arabian Nights in the hands of a child. Japanese fiction is passing from the intermediate Chinese romance to fiction modeled on the European novel. In Northwest India Moslem Lucknow, on the appointed day, fills the street where the monthly numbers of the last romance come fresh from the press. One, which had a prodigious vogue a dozen years ago carried a modern hero through prodigies of valor in the Russo-Turkish war. For a decade past in India vernacular fiction, as in Arabic, is taking the place of the tale modeled on old classic examples. The world of the novel, like all worlds, is coming to be alike the world over.

Italy and Spain, between them, issue for 500 to 600 novels in a year, the larger country the larger portion. France, the world's schoolmaster in fiction, prints 600 volumes in a year; Scandinavian Europe as many more, centering for publication at Copenhagen. Russia supplies on an average, year by year, from 800 to 1000. Its vast millions are unlettered, but the appetite of its small educated classes, social conditions, and the absence of libraries and newspapers stimulate reading. When the copyright on Pushkin's poems expired, the first twelve months saw 183 editions and a circulation of 2,000,000 copies. What English poet is likely to have this complement? Each lesser tongue in Europe has its hundred or two of novels, but the editions are small. A sale of 8000 to 10,000 copies is the limit of success for a new Hungarian novel.

JAIL TRUST MEMBERS.

Newspaper Editor Says Interstate Commission Will Take Matter Up.

New York, Oct. 31.—Before the Interstate Commerce Commission to be convened in special session tomorrow morning in the Federal building, William Randolph Hearst, through his attorney, will present an amended complaint calling upon that body to proceed in the civil and criminal courts against the presidents of the great railroads constituting the coal trust for violations of the Interstate Commerce law.

These presidents, Baer, Truesdale, Olyphant and the others who are the head and front of the coal trust, if found guilty, can be punished by a fine of $5,000 each or by two years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

The expeditious action of the Interstate Commerce Commission, a non-partisan body, is in striking contrast with delays granted to benefit the trust by Governor Odell, acting through his attorney-general. Attorney General Davies has now had the petition of Mr. Hearst to proceed against the coal trust fifty-one days and no definite action has been taken.

Every effort has been made to postpone until after election the ordeal the trust must face when its officers are forced to answer upon the stand Mr. Hearst's charges of conspiracy.

The Interstate Commerce Commission received Mr. Hearst's petition only yesterday and today will take the first step in one of the most important investigations in its history.

All the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission will be present tomorrow, for Mr. Hearst submits to it an amended petition based upon facts secured by the "American."

ASTOR DONATES PATENTS.

New Idea in the Construction of Marine Turbines.

New York, November 6.—Colonel John Jacob Astor has given to the world his patents on marine turbines. Although he might have enjoyed a monopoly of them for 17 years he has formerly turned over the invention for public use. He makes the announcement in the current issue of the Scientific American in the form of a letter to the editor of that publication, in which he says:

"All my patents on marine turbines having been granted, I hereby dedicate them to the public in the hope that the development of the ideal turbine may be hastened hereby."

As yet no engine has been built to utilize Astor's patents, but engineers and critics have expressed themselves as sharing the Colonel's belief that the theories will work out practically. The invention contemplates twin screws set tandem, instead of side by side, and revolving in opposite directions. In view of Astor's references to the possible use of the turbine for dynamo purposes, one man pointed out that Astor's gift of the patents to the public would make it possible for rapid transit company engineers to use the Colonel's ideas for a turbine at the central power station of the underground road.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup, whooping cough and influenza. It has become famous for its cures of these diseases over a large part of the civilized world. The most flattering testimonials have been received, giving accounts of its good works; of the aggravating and persistent coughs it has cured; of severe colds that have yielded promptly to its soothing effects, and of the dangerous attacks of croup it has cured, often saving the life of the child. The extensive use of it for whooping cough has shown that it robs that disease of all dangerous results. It is especially prized by mothers because it contains nothing injurious and there is not the least danger in giving it, even to babies. It always cures and cures quickly. The Hilo Drug Store sells it.
